Collecting personal information

Generally, the information we hold will have been provided directly from student and parents/carers (e.g. information inputted into our management information system or information from when we communicate with you). We will also obtain information about student from previous schools attended.

We may also hold information about you which has been provided by third parties. This may include from local authorities, the court, or other professionals involved in a student’s care.

We sometimes audio/ video record sessions/lessons/assessments for student or staff development and assessment. This will generate personal data including student images, names, contributions, and will be protected, processed, and retained in the same way as all personal data, in line with our data protection policies.

The majority of information we collect from student and parents/carers is required by law, but some of it may be provided on a voluntary basis. Where information is requested voluntarily, you will be informed that you have a choice in whether or not you provide this information.

Storing personal information

We keep student and parent/carer information for the duration of time the student remains at the Beths Grammar School. If/when a student transfers to an alternative school, their file will transfer with them; a copy will not be held by Beths Grammar School. If a student leaves the Beths Grammar

School at the end of their compulsory education, the files are stored in accordance with our Data Retention Policy.

Any information held by the Beths Grammar School which does not form part of the student record will be kept for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting or reporting requirements. Details of retention periods for different aspects of personal information are available upon request. After this period, we will securely destroy or anonymise personal information in accordance with data protection law.

Who do we share information with?

We routinely share student and parent/carer information with:

- Schools that the student attends after leaving us
- Our local authority
- The Department for Education including Learner Record Services, the National Student Database and the Teaching Regulation Agency
- Examining bodies
- Ofsted
- Law enforcement agencies
- Courts and tribunals
- Our auditors, insurers and other professional advisers
- Health and social welfare organisations, including NHS agencies, services and the school nurse
- Youth support services/career services (student aged 13+)
- Universities
- Employers/training providers where references are requested
- Work experience providers
- Catering providers
- Speech and language provider
- Youth support services (student aged 13+)
- Other third parties we may engage the services of for the purposes of providing a public task or the administration of Beths Grammar School, for example our safeguarding monitoring software, our management information system provider
- Other third parties in the event of transferring or restructuring part of the Beths Grammar School.

Why do we share information with the Department for Education (DfE)?

We do not share information about our student or parents/carers without consent unless the law allows us to do so. The DfE collects personal information from educational settings and local authorities via various statutory data collections. We are required to share information about our student with the DfE either directly or via our local authority for the purpose of those data collections, under [regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Student) (England) Regulations 2013].

All data is transferred securely and held by the DfE under a combination of software and hardware controls, which meet the current government security policy framework.

For more information, please see 'How Government uses your data' section at Annex One. For privacy information on the data the Department for Education collects and uses, please see: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/privacy-information-early-years-foundation-stage-to-key-stage-3> and <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/privacy-information-key-stage-4-and-5-and-adult-education>

Why do we share information with Youth Support Services and Careers Advisors?

Student aged 13+

Once our student reach the age of 13, we pass information about the student to our local authority so they can carry out their legal responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- youth support services
- careers advisers

A parent or guardian can object to any information in addition to their child's name, address and date of birth being passed to their local authority or provider of youth support services by informing us. This right is transferred to the child / student once they reach the age 16.

For more information about services for young people, please visit our local authority website or contact our Data Protection Officer.

Student aged 16+

We will also share certain information about student aged 16+ with our local authority as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- post-16 education and training providers
- youth support services
- careers advisers

A child / student once they reach the age of 16 can object to information other than their name, address and date of birth being passed to their local authority by contacting us.

For more information about services for young people, please visit our Bexley Authority website.

International Transfers of Personal Data

Your personal information may be transferred outside the UK and the European Economic Area ('EEA'), including to the United States. Where information is transferred outside the UK or EEA to a country that is not designated as "adequate" in relation to data protection law, the information is adequately protected by conducting a transfer risk assessment to ensure that security measures and other appropriate safeguards are in place to protect your information. For more information on international transfers please contact us at the details below.

Your rights

Data protection law gives parents and student certain rights about how their information is collected and used. To make a request for your personal information, please contact our Data Protection Officer by emailing mrneylan@beths.bexley.sch.uk

Under data protection law, you also have the following rights:

- the right to be informed about the collection and use of your personal data – this is called 'right to be informed'.
- the right to ask us for copies of your personal information we have about you – this is called 'right of access', this is also known as a subject access request (SAR), data subject access request or right of access request.
- the right to ask us to change any information you think is not accurate or complete – this is called 'right to rectification'.
- the right to ask us to delete your personal information – this is called 'right to erasure'
- the right to ask us to stop using your information – this is called 'right to restriction of processing'.
- the 'right to object to processing' of your information, in certain circumstances.
- rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling.
- the right to withdraw consent at any time (where relevant).
- the right to complain to the Information Commission if you feel we have not used your information in the right way.

There are legitimate reasons why we may refuse your information rights request, which depends on why we are processing it. For example, some rights will not apply:

- right to erasure does not apply when the lawful basis for processing is legal obligation or public task.
- right to portability does not apply when the lawful basis for processing is legal obligation, vital interests, public task or legitimate interests.
- right to object does not apply when the lawful basis for processing is contract, legal obligation or vital interests. And if the lawful basis is consent, you don't have the right to object, but you have the right to withdraw consent.

For further information on how to request access to personal information held centrally by the DfE, please see the 'Annex One - How Government uses your data'.

Withdrawal of consent

Where we are processing your personal information with your consent, you have the right to withdraw that consent. If you change your mind, or you are unhappy with our use of your personal data, please let us know by contacting our Data Protection Officer by emailing mrneylan@beths.bexley.sch.uk.

Complaints

If you have a concern about the way we are collecting or using your personal information, you have the right to make a complaint to us. Any complaints relating to data protection must be directed to our Data Protection Officer by mrneylan@beths.bexley.sch.uk. Data protection complaints will be dealt with in accordance with the procedure set out in our Data Protection Policy.

If you remain dissatisfied with our response, you can make a complaint directly to the Information Commission at - Make a complaint about how an organisation has used your personal information | ICO.

Contact

If you have any questions about this privacy notice or the way in which we use your personal information, please contact our Data Protection Officer by mrneylan@beths.bexley.sch.uk.

Annex One – How does the Government use student data?

How does the government use student data?

The student data that we lawfully share with the DfE through data collections:

- underpins school funding, which is calculated based upon the numbers of children and their characteristics in each school.
- informs 'short term' education policy monitoring and school accountability and intervention (for example, school GCSE results or Student Progress measures).
- supports 'longer term' research and monitoring of educational policy (for example how certain subject choices go on to affect education or earnings beyond school)

Data Collection Requirements

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the DfE (for example via the school census) go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>

The National Student Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the DfE and contains information about student in schools in England. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

The data in the NPD is provided as part of the operation of the education system and is used for research and statistical purposes to improve, and promote, the education and well-being of children in England.

The evidence and data provide DfE, education providers, Parliament and the wider public with a clear picture of how the education and children's services sectors are working in order to better target, and evaluate, policy interventions to help ensure all children are kept safe from harm and receive the best possible education.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-student-database-npd-privacy-notice/national-student-database-npd-privacy-notice>

[Learner Records Service

The information you supply is used by the Learning Records Service (LRS). The LRS issues Unique Learner Numbers (ULN) and creates Personal Learning records across England, Wales and Northern Ireland, and is operated by the Education and Skills Funding Agency, an executive agency of the Department for Education (DfE). For more information about how your information is processed, and to access your Personal Learning Record, please refer to: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/lrs-privacy-notice>

Sharing by the DfE

DfE will only share student' personal data where it is lawful, secure and ethical to do so. Where these conditions are met, the law allows the Department for Education (DfE) to share student' personal data with certain third parties, including:

- schools and local authorities
- researchers
- organisations connected with promoting the education or wellbeing of children in England
- other government departments and agencies
- organisations fighting or identifying crime

For more information about the DfE's NPD data sharing process, please visit: <https://www.gov.uk/data-protection-how-we-collect-and-share-research-data>

Organisations fighting or identifying crime may use their legal powers to contact the DfE to request access to individual level information relevant to detecting that crime.

For information about which organisations the Department for Education (DfE) has provided student information, (and for which project) or to access a monthly breakdown of data share volumes with Home Office and the Police please visit the following website: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/dfe-external-data-shares>

Further Information

For further details about the way in which the DfE uses student data and to exercise your data protection rights, please visit: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/requesting-your-personal-information/requesting-your-personal-information#your-rights>
